Attacks on academic freedom and higher education are frequent and pervasive - with wide-ranging—at times deadly—consequences for scholars and students. No country is immune.

This summit will examine the full scope of global threats to academic freedom and their consequences, especially in terms of forced scholar migration, and will explore how best to defend academic freedom and to support scholars forced to flee their homelands.

Please join us for a series of events including a culture show, keynotes, and panels discussing the critical issues facing scholars at risk worldwide and the importance of academic freedom.

Proposals for papers and panels for the summit are invited. Abstracts and panel proposals are to be submitted to the organizing committee by September 1, 2023. For summit details and how to submit, please scan the QR code or visit the Summit's webpage:
